Liability of School Board is up to Voters

To settle the question or reinforcement of the Sunset School against possible earthquake stresses, in line with the State Inspector's report of last summer, the School Board will call an election in the near future to ask authority for the necessary expenditures.

This was decided at the regular meeting last Tuesday evening after receipt of a letter from District Attorney Harry Noland in answer to one asking opinion on responsibility of trustees under present conditions. Noland said that the trustees are personally liable for any injuries or damages resulting by virtue of their negligence, but that the definition of negligence would be a question of fact.

In other words, if they knew the building was not safe they would be liable, but that if sufficient funds were not available to effect repairs and they had done all in their power otherwise to overcome the hazard, in his opinion the court would not hold the trustees negligent. It would be necessary, however, for the trustees to show that they had tried in every way to raise the needed funds before their responsibility would be relieved.

"If there are not sufficient funds on hand to do the necessary work," continues the Noland letter, "then of course it is necessary to raise more money. Under the present law the school district can expend only a sum amounting to five per cent over and above the amount expended the last preceding year. If this additional five per cent is not sufficient to take care of the necessary amount needed, the proper course for the school board would be to call an election asking for the right to expend more than five percent."

Noland goes on to say that he would not recommend a bond election unless the amount necessary to be expended is a large amount and the Board desires to have the burden of paying the same over a considerable period of time.

"The law provides," he says, "that a majority of voters of the district at an election duly called for that purpose can authorize the board to levy taxes for an amount exceeding the five percent, and to expend the same for the purposes for which the election was called."

He recommends that the election be called in the near future so as to get the reaction of the taxpayers before the 1934-35 budget is made up.

The board indicated that it would employ a competent engineer to survey the buildings with a view toward ascertaining the total amount needed to make satisfactory improvements, and when this work is completed the election will be called for. It was pointed out once more that the buildings at present are in good condition, according to recent inspection reports, but that since the earthquakes in Southern California the entire state has been surveyed with regard to strengthening buildings against possible damage even though such buildings were amply strong under the requirements of the time in which they were built.

Other board action included consideration of what children living outside the district might be enrolled, and this brought up the problem of parents paying taxes in Carmel, yet residing outside the school district, and their right to send children here.

Mrs. Joseph Schoeninger, representing the League of Women Voters, asked the board to consider finding positions for women until CWS allowances in connection with recreational and other work particularly suited to persons of limited training. It has ruled that state districts may employ services of such women above the usual budgets of the districts, with the threefold object of financing consumers, helping the individuals and helping the community.

This would improve recreational facilities on the peninsula during the coming summer when swimming pools, playgrounds, gymnasiums and he lne could have adequate supervision at no extra cost to the vicinity. The board was heartily in agreement with the idea, and promised to investigate needs for such services, and thus fell in line with the Council, the Scouts and other groups furthering such work.

Report on fire hazards as offered by Birney Adams, of the Carmel Fire Department, showed that at present there were no active life hazards, but it was recommended that when the proposed reconstruction was under way the fire question as a whole should be considered along with it.

Carmel to Take the Air For Annual Kite Contest

There will be more than radio waves in the Carmel air on Saturday, the 24th, when the annual kite flying contests are held on the Hatton Fields mesa above the Mission, beginning at two at two in the afternoon.

More elaborate than ever, this event that attracts droves of young entrants and hundreds of older spectators will show the latest developments in the ancient art of kite flying and will bring cash rewards to winners in each of the many classes. Contests will include those for best made kite, prettiest kite, highest flying kite, oddest kite and for winner of the Filipino kite fighting contest. Firsts will be worth $5.00 and seconds, $2.50.

One important rule is that no kite can get a prize unless it is first reviewed by the judges before being flown, and then placed in its proper group under a designated banner. Red banner for best made, white for highest flyer, blue for prettiest and yellow for oddest, and the field will be roped off so that the judges may enforce this and other rules and go about their work without interference.

Rev. Melvin Dorsett, of the Community Church, will be in general charge of the afternoon in place of Rev. Willis White, who will be unable to take the place he has filled for the past several years.

Start of the afternoon's events will take place when contestants gather at the Sunset School at 1:30. They will parade up San Carlos to 7th, then up Dolores to Ocean and to Monte Verde, back to San Carlos and down San Carlos to the Mission, thence turn left and up to the field. At the Mission a stop of two minutes will be made in honor of the Father Serra.

Contest judges will be as follows. For the best made kite, Misses Ruth Huntington and Hazel Watrous, and Frederick Wright; for prettiest kite, Mesdames George Siedeneck, George Ball and Frederick Wright; the highest flyer, Frederick Howard, John Catlin and George Cole; for the oddest kite, George Seideneck, John Dennis and Armin Hansen.

Patrons of the contest are The Womens Club, the Parent-Teachers Assn., Mrs. Vera Peck Millis, Rev. A. B. Chinn, Father Michael D. O'Connell, Mayor John Catlin, Daniel Willard, Perry Newberry, Mr. and Mrs. Wright, Miss Elizabeth White, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Bardarson, Jo Mora, Senator Edward H. Tickle, Mrs. Sidney Fish, Miss Ada Howe Kent, Mrs. Kilpatrick, Armin Hansen and Mr. and Mrs. Norman T. Reynolds.

Week-ending in Boulder Creek were Mr. and Mrs. J. Abernathy.

In a meeting that featured none CWS employees be used to assist of the fireworks common to recent City Assessor Saide Van Brower regular meetings when the Forest in revaluation of personal property Theatre and kindred projects were in local homes, it being contended being discussed for federal fund re- by some members of the council quests, the council Wednesday that at present much revenue was night considered numerous widely being lost through incomplete collections. It was finally voted to ask Following which was a plea say that her department would get from Mrs. Joseph Schoeninger, representing the peninsula division of the League of Women Voters, asking support of the council in finding work for unemployed women in public positions such as recreational and cultural activities. This the council strongly favored for immediate action.

Favor also came to Rev. Melvin Dorsett's idea of backing the summer classes of boys and girls giving varied instruction without cost to the local residents. This plan was treated at length in a recent issue of this paper, and will receive detailed description as it nears maturity.

Important news of historical drama intimately related to Carmel was made public when Frank Sheridan, the actor, Father Michael O'Connell, of the Mission, and George Marion, the veteran play producer and actor, outlined an ambitious program for the late summer that would include a pageant of father Serra's life and have state-wide appeal and drawing power. With these names, and those of local groups, attached to such an affair, Carmel would again take the lead in outdoor pageantry, and the council gave wholehearted approval of the plan and promised to issue whatever proclamations should be needed.

Mrs. K. G. Rendtorff was appointed library trustee by resolution, at request of the library board, her term to run three years. Then came discussion of installation of life-guarding equipment on the beach as suggested by the Carmel Business Association, but after much consideration it was decided that any step in this direction would mean responsibility for complete maintenance and protection, and that it had better not be attempted in part, although a patrolman paid for by CWS funds might be put to work without the city becoming liable for casualties. The ensuing matter of asking the Railroad Commission to cancel the five-cent toll charge on peninsula calls resulted in authorizing city attorney Campbell to confer with Monterey and Pacific Grove upon unified action, and also asking councilman John Jordan to take it up with tri-city groups.

The long-expected business license proposal of change was not yet in form to be submitted, but a date within two weeks was suggested for hearing protests against the present and proposed ordinance the latter to be made public in newspapers beforehand. The council then approved police chief Gus England's recommendation that Dave Nixon be made a police officer on night patrol at a salary of $135. a month.

Considerable talk pro and con came when it was suggested that Miss Clara Kellogg, as superintendent of streets, was pleased to say that her department would get free a large number of truckloads of drainage oil for use on streets. This is due to energy on the part of William Askew, in charge of public work of the sort, and we need furnish only men and the truck to bring oil over the hill.

The Carmel Labor Bureau presented detailed drawings and figures of the proposed footbridge on north Lincoln to furnish a CWA project to care for more Carmel unemployed, and this the council unanimously voted to present as another proposition if the government will grant new funds for such. A subway for school children, running under San Carlos, was tabled for further consideration after presentation by George Whitcomb, of the Labor Bureau.

Termination date of salary cuts for city employees was extended to July 31, 1934, upon which pleasant note the council adjourned after nearly four hours of civic toil.

NEW CLUB SOON TO BE STARTED HERE

Soon to open in Carmel is the "Good Fun Club," a recreational and athletic group to have headquarters in the Mission Chapel at 8th and Dolores through the generosity of the Presbyterian Board and a small group of public spirited citizens, with boys and men of Carmel about scout age to be eligible.

While the Community Church will nominally be in charge of the move, the actual sponsoring will be by a committee of well known men including Don Staniford, Bert Hyde, Frank Sheridan, J. L. Nye and Everett Smith. The basis of membership, time of opening and announcement of scope of the project will be given in an early issue of this paper, and it is believed that by the end of the month the club will be in full operation.

With clean, properly encouraged recreation for its aim, the club will no doubt be popular from the start and make one more distinctive element in the social life of Carmel.

MARGARET FORTIER DIES FROM BRAIN HEMORRHAGE

Miss Margaret Fortier, well known in Carmel and a sister of Adele Bechdolt and of the late Mrs. W. L. Overstreet, was stricken yesterday morning with a cerebral hemorrhage while on the street in San Leandro and died a short while later in the emergency hospital.

She was born in San Francisco, was a graduate of the University of California in 1902 and taught school in Oakland for many years, and of late has been with the San Leandro Junior High School.

SANITARY BOARD ELECTION IS SCHEDULED FOR MARCH

A general election will be held in the Carmel Sanitary District on March 12th to elect two members for the full term of two years each to fill the expired terms of trustees Dr. J. B. McCarthy and Hugh Comstock, and for a third member to fill a one year term of office left vacant by resignation of trustee Henry Dickinson. A sanitary assessor will also be voted for. Both McCarthy and Comstock are candidates to succeed themselves and F. P. Howard, now in Dickinson's place, has consented to run for the short term. In this election it will be necessary for voters to write in names of candidates, and the polling place will be offices of the Triangle Realty Co., on Dolores Street between 7th and 8th Streets.

ILLNESS FATAL TO CARL HUSEMANN IN KING CITY

Death came on February 5th to Carl Husemann, long a resident of Carmel and associated in the baking business here with Ben Wetzel, when he suffered a heart attack in King City. Of late he had been under treatment for his ailment in Monterey and friends had urged that he remain there instead of returning south.

Funeral was held yesterday at Weibolt's Funeral parlors in charge of the San Francisco Baeker Verein, and was followed by cremation at the Olive Crematorium.

Miss Gussie Meyer, proprietor of the Old Cabin Inn spent Monday and Tuesday in San Francisco looking up new equipment for her kitchen. Of course she found time for some fun on the side.

leaves but a small margin, but any profit will go toward replenishing the P. T. A. social welfare fund which is almost depleted. In the past two years, the work of the welfare committee has been an invaluable part of the P. T. A. program, providing food and clothing for needy children in Carmel. Large individual donations toward the fund have been withdrawn or curtailed, with the result that the social welfare committee must look to such sources as this P. T. A. dinner for financial aid.

MAN IS CAUGHT ENTERING HOME OF O. W. BARDARSON

In the act of entering the home of O. W. Bardarson, principal of the Sunset school, who lives at 12th and Dolores, Stanley Walker, a young man said to have been brought here recently for seclusion following a nervous breakdown in Alameda, was captured by Bardarson at dawn Saturday morning.

Earlier in the night it was thought that Walker had wandered around the neighborhood, as a man answering his description had been questioned by his erratic behavior, but it was not until he was caught climbing through a window in the Bardarson home that he was apprehended and held by the principal until police officers Gus England and Charles Guth arrived and placextinguished when the salvage crew pulled the main electric switch.

DEFECTIVE LAMP BRINGS OUT FIRE DEPARTMENT

A defective electric lighting fixture is thought to have caused the small blaze in a home on Casanova and Seventh last Friday noon, resulting in the fire department being called to the scene. By the time the apparatus arrived someone had turned a garden hose into the room and this constituted most of the eventual damage, as the fire was

On Thursday night next week, February fifteenth, at six-thirty o'clock, members of the Carmel Parent Teacher association and guests will assemble in the old auditorium at Sunset School for dinner. Those planning to be present are advised to secure thirty-five cent tickets in advance since only a fixed number will be served.

During the past few years, these informal dinners have been the most popular of P. T. A. activities, there being miscellaneous entertainment to enhance the enjoyment of the victuals prepared by various members of the group. In addition to the dinner next Thursday night, there will be a food sale conducted by Mrs. John Crichton.

NEW ENTRANCE TO CARMEL BEING MADE BY CWA MEN

Work on the highway entering Carmel at the junction of the State road and city entrance, which has been object of much conjecture by local motorists, is explained as a CWA county job intended to relieve congestion on Carpenter Street.

The new road will run some 1300 feet from the highway down toward the Abalone Baseball Park and join the Del Monte Avenue means of entering town through Carmel Woods and is expected to be the main artery of ingress. By the well known fact that drivers take the easiest way, it will be very simple to offer them this broad new entrance and have them accept it, as the present way of skirting La Loma Terrace will be partially blocked off.

Exit from town will be suggested as the usual route except that drivers are asked to continue straight to the State road instead of turning north on Carpenter at the top of Ocean Ave. Thus the bad visibility and rolling nature of the street in question will be obviated and safety had in a greater measure.

Work has been under way for a month employing over forty men, and is expected to last some three or four weeks longer. It is a portion of general highway improvement going on in several neighboring localities under supervision of Lee Gottfried, well known Carmelite, appointed by federal agencies last year.

REV. DORSETT WILL GIVE COUPLES NOVEL KEEPSAKE

Carmel is distinctive even unto the keepsake given by the clergyman when he performs a marriage ceremony. The Rev. Melvin C. Dorsett of the Community Church, has worked with Mr. Wright of the Press in the Woods, to evolve a document decidedly different from the usual formal white affair that is soon in the bottom of a trunk and forgotten.

It is of pocket size on friendly tan with brown and green printing of line and letter. The cover bears a picture by Jo Mora that is typical of our forests and dunes, and is followed by a verse by Wm. Herbert Carruth, then by Kilmer's "Trees." Then come the marriage vows, the space for the certificate signatures, a poem by William Wordsworth, one by Eva Rose York, a page for Marriage Events and finally a good wish that reads: "May Every Added Year Bring Joy and Sweet Contentment to Your Hearts."

These eight pages and cover make something that keys into the lively tempo of modern life instead of the impersonal formality of earlier years.

BOY SCOUTS COLUMN by Homer Levinson

Four weeks ago Friday, there was a look of expectation on the faces of those boys who wished to become scouts. For a week ago was the investment or initiation service.

In this service there are fifteen candles representing the twelve scout laws and the three parts of the scout oath.

In front of these was the troop and the American Flag. Each scout-to-be takes hold of the troop Flag and says the scout oath. Then he is given his badge by a member of the committee. He has to wear this badge upside down until he does his first good turn.

February 8th was the birthday of scouting in the United States. Then President Franklin D. Roosevelt spoke over the radio to the public.

On February 22 there will be a few happy scouts assembled at the scout house. For these boys will be going up to Long Barn in the Sierra Nevada mountains. Once up there they will go skating, sledging, skiing (for 25c an hour).

If you think that the Carmel scout troop isn't any good just listen to this. In this council there are 100 troops, and yet only two troops—troop 77 of Monterey and troop 86 of Carmel—are getting the Pres. Roosevelt award, which is a banner to be flown on the staff with the American flag.

On Saturday, February 10th the day will be scout mobilization day. President will speak. For Satur-

With her beautiful country club home the setting for a one o'clock bridge luncheon, Mrs. Jane McHenry Rawers was hostess to Mrs. William Lee, Mrs. John Abernathy, Mrs. Clarence Terry, Mrs. Clinton Rand, Mrs. Franklin Thompson, Mrs. Walter Johnson and Mrs. Jack Schrader, Tuesday afternoon.

WALKER MUSIC BOX MOVES LOCATION

Carmel really is musical. Imagine a new business starting in this day and age and having to move to larger quarters three months later, because of business demand. That is exactly what happened to the Walker Music Box, which has now moved from the Comstock building opposite the postoffice to the Farley building on Dolores Street in the middle of the block between 7th and Ocean.

Radio business is reported good by Mr. Walker, Proprietor, which accounts for the brand new shipment of RCA-Victor Radios which has just been received. Among these radios is a new all wave set, which enables one to spend the evening visiting all the countries of the world via the air. Actual stations heard in Carmel include: Paris, London, Geneva, Rome, Madrid, Rio De Janeiro, Melbourne, Honolulu, Mexico City, Montreal, all with more than sufficient volume.

In addition to the new line of radios, the Walker Music Box features a complete line of phonograph records, and Howard Grand and upright pianos.

INCOMPARABLE GIESEKING

by Hal Garrott

A huge audience assembled in Sunset Auditorium Saturday to hear Gieseeking give an even greater performance than he did at his previous appearances.

After hearing every world pianist of note since the Victorian Era, some many times, I am convinced there are two classes of keyboard virtuosi. Gieseeking belongs in one. The rest belong in the other. All of the latter (except the eccentrics) play pieces in a traditional manner. If you know your standard works you know where they will play fast, heavy, soft, brilliantly. You don't have to guess where technic will dazzle.

Gieseeking does the unexpected, but he does not surprise. His interpretations seem inevitable. They have but one result. They enhance the beauty of the composition. Genius is the word for this man's playing. A palmist would deduct it from his spatulate thumbs. A musician needs more proof, especially as Gieseeking played the Chopin Berceuse without once touching his left thumb to the keyboard. Thus the thumb, a heavy hitter, was prevented from marring the whispering pianissimo. "Can't be done," you say. But I saw him do it. This pianist plays with the discriminating subtlety that distinguishes the phrasing in Keats' Saint Agnes Eve.

It is in his Debussy that Gieseeking rises to heights no other has scaled. Who from Rubenstein to Iturbi has evoked such magic from a piano? At times his fingers, like bristles, brush the keys awakening variegated tone colors and tinted atmospheres. Some may prefer a more conventional (less poetic) Beethoven, a speedier Bach where Gieseeking's un-pedaled semi-staccato notes have a tendency to die out from lack of singing quality. But where else on his program could another approach him?

It was the most consistently musical program a pianist has yet played in Carmel. Even Gieseeking's five encores were chosen to conceal technic in favor of music. A Schubert Moment Musical, a piano arrangement of a Richard Strauss song, Schumann's Bird As Prophet, Debussy's Gollywog Cake Walk and, of all things, a Bach Prelude and Fugue. What other pianist could hold an audience after a lengthy program with such encores as these, and have them clamor for more. It is equivalent to DeWolf Hopper winning us with the Ode to A Skylark when Casey at The Bat is demanded.

All of which brings me to the conclusion that the "highbrow" works of the great masters are comprehensible to the public when performed with a genius equal to that which created them.

Mrs. Beverly D. Walker of San Francisco has arrived in Carmel to join her husband who recently opened "The Walker Music Box" on Dolores Street.

Henry Dickinson Jr., Ralph Lindley, were visitors in Palo Alto this week on business.

GILBERT AND SULLIVAN'S "PATIENCE" NEXT EVENT

Twelve days off the calendar and Carmel's amusement fare will read, "Patience"—one of the cleverest and most tuneful of the Gilbert and Sullivan comic operas, at the Carmel Playhouse, presented by the Monterey Peninsula Opera Association. The 21st, 22nd, 23rd, and 24th of February are the dates on which a lively troupe of actors and songsters will dash through song, dance, and dialogue with the assurance gained during five months of careful preparation.

The Opera association was formed last October, with members from all parts of the Peninsula, a non-profit organization, devoted to the study of opera music and to the various phases of production. During the winter the group met each week for rehearsal, and at the same time various members of the group planned for the different technical aspects of production, in the event the organization should decide to perform for the public.

Now, as the time of presentation approaches, the business of production is in the hands of various members, including the making of costumes, designing and construction of sets and properties, publicity management, and business management. So, when the public attends "Patience" it will witness the results of a thoroughly cooperative project in which, guild fashion, all the work has been done by members of the group. Proceeds from ticket sale will go toward defraying cost of production, and in the event any small surplus remains that will purchase scores for the next opera to be studied.

A large cast, drawn from all parts of the Peninsula will perform in "Patience." Taking the leading roles are Gordon Knoles, Miss Madeline M. Currey, Gertrude Bardarson, Verne Williams, Paul Day, Walter Doolittle, Allison Shoemaker, Lily Walker, Dorothy Greene, and Edith Elasho. The production is under the direction of Arthur Gunderson.

FRANCISCA LEIDIG SINGS TONIGHT AT PINE INN

Francisca Nason Leidig, rendering folk songs and classics tonight at Pine Inn for the Carmel Mission Restoration Fund, will include many favorites of local audiences.

She will give Nel Core (1649), by Scarlatti; Fanciulla (1648), by Durante; Ah, Lo So, by Mozart; Ave Maria, Thais, of Massenet's; Widmung, by Schumann; Tristesse, Od French (1770) by Gretry and Tarantella, by Rossini.

Following the intermission will be Do Not Go, My Love, by Have-man; Wind Song, by Farley; Valse, by Arensky; Ah, Non Credea, La Sonambula, by Bellini, and la Bor-rachita — Clavelitos — Carmela, Spanish California Folk Songs.

Accompanying her will be Alice Lingley, and the program will begin at 8:30 o'clock.

ABALONE BASEBALL WILL BEGIN PRACTICE SUNDAY

The rallying cry of the Abalone Baseball league is being sounded for next Sunday by none other than veteran Frank Sheridan, who worked his way up from bat-boy, grounds keeper, club-house manager, substitute, and then player-manager to star.

"It's that time of year again," stated Frank to our reporter. "Some people call it Spring fever, but Carmel knows that it's only Abalone ball asserting its irresistible pull. Be up at the Abalone park at two o'clock Sunday!"

So you, and you and you who have clamored ever since the last series for more games will have your chance to romp on the green grass and do your stuff. Famous players of today and yesterday will be there, as well as a gallery that would fill a who's who. Bring your gloves, your shoes—and your liniment.

DALTON BOYS WIN IN S. F. TOURNNEY

News flash! Carmel boxers score in opening night of Pacific Association Amateur Boxing Championships in San Francisco. Wednesday night at the Civic Auditorium, Frank Dalton, 147 pounds, knocked out opponent Frank Schuler, of Petaluma, in 1 minute and 1 second.

Brother Bob, in the 126 pound class, won by default, and this means that both Daltons will appear again next Monday night when the bouts resume. Finals will be on Monday the 19th.

Leaving for a short trip to Palo Alto and San Francisco this weekend are Miss Florence Edler and Miss Alice Meckenstock.

Mrs. Mary A. Clough of San Francisco has been visiting her daughter Mrs. Lloyd G. Cullen for a few days.

WINDOW

"In these days of crowded curbs and 'No Parking,' I buy many household necessities while sitting right at my car's window. There's Shell's Fly Spray, Furniture Polish, Dry Cleaner and Solvent, convenient oil cans, and quite a variety of other needed items."

That's how one of our customers does her window shopping. She makes household purchases while we're fueling the car with Super-Shell. It's a money and time saving idea—try it.

LASCIVIOUSITY
by Hal Garrett

Once in a while a reviewer runs against a dramatic proposition he doesn't know what to do with. A physician must feel like this when he blunders upon a new disease. An author friend who receives scores of unsolicited manuscripts from a thoughtless public, had the fortitude to say: "There's something good about every manuscript if only the impulse that prompted the author to write it."

With this generous sentiment in mind, let us proceed with "Twenty or a few drinks before the opening Lascivious Turtles," presented by Edward Kuster in Carmel Playhouse last week end "by special arrangement with the Actors and Authors Guild of Hollywood, for the first time on any stage." Without violating truth the announcement might have included "starring George McMenamin."

Hollywood evidently wants "to try something on the dog" and Carmel draws a premiere. Now, on with the play. It seems two Greenwich Village boys are suffering from what might be termed "pal complex." Here's a new one for Freud (no charge.) Their antics and chatter seems a bit too sappy even for farce until both principals are drunk. Then we have a pretty good scene, Act III Scene I.

There's a girl the pals keep pushing from one to the other in fits of self-sacrificing devotion. Also a well heeled adventuress in search of Love with an Arty alias, whom the deah boys take turns gigoloing, and a he-man who finally grabs the girl. He offers the gigolos a music-comedy-writing job because he's an idiot like everyone else in the play.

The thing is completely idiotic. And perhaps that's its value. It may be a new disease of the stage. If it is, it would require slapstickers of Marx Brothers caliber or a few drinks before the opening curtain, to tempt a dramatic physician to diagnose it. Experimentation is necessary. Our great president is leading us out of depression by trial and error. It is fitting that Carmel, home of the little theatre, should be subjected to try-outs.

This play is easy compared with some modern "music" I've heard.

What do I think of it? God knows!

As for the cast, George McMenamin is an adaptable player, capable of directed abandon and spontaneity and good clowning. Vera Hunter (though she has but one gesture) has charming stage presence. Janet Large takes another sinister role which she plays with her "Hay Fever" gestures. Everett Sholund is a breezy young historian who belongs. Tom Crosthwaite is conscientious and carries a heavy part with some credit. Ralph James is almost an East-Sider. A little more work on his Yiddish inflections, and Grand Street might pass him for a block or two. Edward Kuster was brave to tackle this piece, braver than the audience who didn't know what they would encounter.

LAWYER TO SPEAK ON PROBLEMS OF TAXATION

Albert C. Roseshine, a San Francisco attorney who is widely known throughout the state, will be the featured speaker at the February 14th meeting of the Monterey Peninsula League of Women Voters. He will outline and discuss the various forms of taxation. The program for this meeting has been arranged by the Efficiency in Government study section of which Mrs. Chas. T. A. Cabaniss is chairman.

Since commencing to practise law in 1906, the scope of Mr. Roseshine's activities has been wide. These are but a few of his varied interests. From 1919 to 1927, he was a member of the State Legislature. Following this, he acted as the State Banking Attorney for four years. During the period from 1927 to 1929, the speaker served on the Board of Governors of the State Bar Association. At present, he is the Vice-President of the California Conference of Social Work and Chairman of the Adult Center for Social Studies at San Francisco.

As the subject of taxation is one of general concern, this meeting is being opened to the men as well as to all interested women. The San Carlos Hotel Solarium will be the meeting place of the League this month. A forty cent luncheon will be served promptly at noon, the meeting adjourning at 2:00 o'clock.

Reservations should be made as early as possible with Mrs. F. W. Ten Winkle in Carmel, phone 892, or with Mrs. Harry Clark in Monterey, phone 4006.

Says Benjamin Franklin of Philadelphia:

"The road to wealth is as plain as the road to market."

Says Ben Franklin of Carmel-by-the-Sea:

"The road to my shop is easy to find. You amble down Ocean Avenue's sunny side and bear to the left a few doors on Dolores Street. There you'll find one of the slickest barbershops west of the Rockies—together with de-luxe service rarely found in a village."

SEZ WE!

There was a young man who was bright.
But his clothes were an unholy sight,
His girl threw him down,
That's what brought him to town,
To get us to make him look right.

NEXT WEEK'S REASON

Why a dedicatory number of the Pine Cone to Lincoln Steffens?

I presume that the Pine Cone is one of the very few newspapers or magazines on the Coast that has never printed an article from the pen of this writer. Not that we ever had any antagonism toward him; not that he would not have consented to help us out in a need; or that relations have ever been strained between us. But there was so much personality and individualism in that cosmos that after he touched the newspaper it was difficult to get it back into the regular tracks of its ordinary progression.

We watched his work on the Carmelite during that publication's stressful existence here. He gave it character and force. If he wrote for a paper, he was that paper—or that paper was he. No curbs on Lincoln Steffens to control him. He said what it was in his mind to say, and the paper printed it as he said it. We admired, but we feared.

If a man is just the ordinary run-of-the-mill kind of editor, and has a paper that sort of represents his mediocrity, he is a bit more fearsome of what goes into its columns than a genius would be. It isn't jealousy, either. Rather a defensive gesture, a protection of his influence and his property. Nor does it indicate any lack of appreciation for the greater genius that can place its mark upon every article written, and become an entity through its expression of thought by words.

We have been a consistent admirer of Lincoln Steffens from the days of his early magazine articles on the "Shame of the Cities," down through the years. He is a world-figure, more important in Washington, London or Berlin than in Carmel. A tribute to him from the people of his home-town will not add to his fame, but is a showing of neighborliness

CREATION

Of finer fabric than the threads of dawn
 I'd make the backdrop hold to every day,
 And each small incident as finely drawn,
 As clear as cameo—a tiny play—
 A crystal element of grace and power,
 An old aroma, vivified and new.
 From out a passing cup of wine would flower
 Fine hospitality in quaint review.

I could not bear the confines Art would trace—
 My raw material out of life I choose;
 I spread my canvas near the market place
 And make my palette flash with mortal hues.
 I draw upon the royal thoroughfare,
 And dip my brush in gaiety and prayer!

—Julia Archibald.

RED

The hue of blood and fire; of clouds that light
 The rose-vaults of the sunset and the dawn;
 Of blushes, passion-flowers, and lips withdrawn;
 Of desert buttes, and the starred rocket flight;
 The hue of forests, when the grey gales blight
 Flame-bosomed autumn, and live berries glow;
 The hue of life, at whose gay, tragic show
 How often we recoil in pain or fright!

Perhaps all wounds of man's calamitous past,
 Red legions bleeding, and red lust that blazed
 While conflagrations howled and Troys were razed,
 Cry out once more, to make us look aghast,
 At this fierce color, glaring with the spears,
 The dooms and agonies of ten thousand years!

—Stanton A. Coblenz

and honest appreciation in which the Pine Cone is delighted to have a part. Nor is the Dedicatory Number which comes from our press next Friday our idea, or ours to claim the credit. It was conceived and edited by Mrs. George Blackman, whose work upon it has been inspirational, and whose enthusiasm has brought her—and us—many helpers to assist in its production.

There is very good reason for a dedicatory number to Lincoln Steffens. May he live long to read many an obituary of himself.

SANITARY BOARD ELECTION

In this issue of the Pine Cone is a call for an election for two members of the Sanitary Board of Trustees, for the full term of two years, and one member for the short term of one year, to be held March 12, at the same time as the bond election to provide funds for the sewage disposal plant. The terms of Hugh Comstock and Dr. J. B. McCarthy are expiring, and F. P. Howard, recently appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Henry F. Dickinson, should be elected to fill out the term of one year. These names must be written in on the ballot—or other names—and it is hoped that there will be no opposition to reelection of the old trustees, who have so well organized and started proceedings for the improved sewer system.

While there seems to be no serious opposition to bonding the district as planned by the Sanitary Board in connection with the state engineers, it is well that every voter in the district turns out on election day and registers his desires. There will be but one voting place, the Triangle Realty Co's. offices on Dolores street between 7th. and 8th. streets, and it will be open from 8 o'clock in the morning until 7 in the evening.

Remember the day, Monday, March 12.

PEOPLE TALKED ABOUT

Frank Sheridan, the staunch Carmelite who helps Hollywood now and then when it needs real character acting, is back after work with Victor McLaglin in a picture called "The Man Who Broke His Heart."

"The writer of the picture," said Frank, "asked what sort of a person McLaglin was, and the reply was that he was a charming man to work with, and had one of the finest physiques in pictures. He's a natural actor whose ability has been used to excellent advantage in many late pictures."

"The story is different from the usual movie type, without a conventional mushy, sloppy ending, and I am rather anxious to see how it is received by the public. I'm doing a sea captain on a tramp steamer, and the scenes divide between there and the San Francisco Barbary Coast. Others in the cast are Allison Skipworth, Preston Foster and a promising new girl named Dell."

Frank then turned to the really important subject of Carmel's lone baseball and is soon going to sound the rallying cry for the faithful to gather for Spring games.

Laura Bride Powers' "Old Monterey, California's Adobe Capital," is off the press of its publishers on February 25, and another authoritative history of California will be added to our libraries. With 364 pages of text and 27 rare prints of illustrations, the book is a vivid cross-section of the story of California from when the first white man settled north of San Diego, till the discovery of gold in 1849. For, during those centuries of Spanish and Mexican rule, Monterey as the capital of this western empire recorded the history of the entire coast.

Dr. Herbert Eugene Bolton, professor of American History and Director of the Bancroft Library of the University of California, for years.

Says Evelyn Wells:

"Never a girl artist in San Francisco has made the success Moira Wallace has made. She has heaps of sketches about her studio, complete, some of them, others half finished visions."

"This one will be 30 feet high when it is finished," she explains, showing a mystic figure representing music, friezed about with smaller figures that are the minor and major strains of harmony.

"It's simply dripping with symbolism, but I've planned it to go beside the organ in Exposition Auditorium," she said.

"And these more unrestrained figures are for the Peacock Court at the Mark Hopkins."

"That's all pure fun. I love sitting on top of a ladder in my white canvas trousers and splashing big lakes of color all around on the walls!"

"Orders for panels, for screens, for walls, for portraits, are constantly before Moira Wallace. Her joy in her work is as inexhaustible as her vitality. The end of a paint splashed day is very likely to find her, charmingly graceful, pouring tea for some of her friends of the younger set."

According to Evelyn Wells, an upturn in sales.

Moira Wallace is the product of no school but is, perhaps, a school by herself. She quotes the young artist:

"I don't remember when I began painting," she says with a puzzled look in her great intrepid gray eyes. "When I was a baby in Carmel, I think."

"She believes herself to be the 'first white child' born in that colony of artists. She first found herself consciously at work, doing baby sketches with deep seriousness, as one of the unusual children training in the Montessori kindergarten in the 1915 exposition."

Good news to Carmel writers comes out of a recent national poll of recreational activities of the American people. Right at the top of a list of ten items is: NEWS-PAPER AND MAGAZINE READING. Farther down are radio and movies.

What with people having a few pieces of small change to spend on such recreation, and the editors having used up most of the manuscripts on their shelves, it may well be that our authors are in for

SEWER BOND ADVOCATES FIND PUBLIC SUPPORT

Favorable public response is being met by advocates of the proposed new sewage disposal system that will be put to voters in this district. For some months the trustees of the Sanitary Board have been working on a plan which will replace the antiquated equipment at the rivermouth.

No more serious problem is before the region than that of establishing a permanent disposal system, and the project at hand will offer service for twenty years or more regardless of growth of the town and environs. The present plant, besides being insufficient in size, is in constant danger of being washed out by the combined action of river and ocean, and is a health menace that has been repeatedly criticized by state and county authorities.

SAMPLE UNIT HOUSE IS OPENED TO THE PUBLIC

The sample unit house built by Hugh Comstock on the corner of Ocean and San Carlos proved a magnet upon its opening Saturday afternoon. Complete to the last detail, and yet ready to be moved in the course of the next few months, it welcomed you with a fire in the Heatilator circulating type fireplace, copper utensils on the combination kitchen range and harmonious furnishings from the Cottage Furniture Shop.

Hardwood block floors already appearing to have been in place for years, treated knotty pine walls which have been subjected to a secret process that neutralizes chemical action of the wood on the stain finish, ant-proof trays in the kitchen cooler, a stainless metal sink so cushioned underneath that it is said to protect dishes from chipping, friction bullet catches on interior doors that allow the door to open merely by pressure and yet will not permit rattling, odor ejector in the kitchen and many more valuable features comprise this dwelling.

Most interesting, of course, is the fact that the house may be added to without harming the architecture and without excessive cost when the owner wishes a new room or a wing. Standard materials furnished by numerous firms in this region and the north are contributed on a co-operative basis, and the home owner can step into a completely equipped cottage from lawn and garden to curtains and tableware if he wishes.

One point about this particular house is that it had to be made with the ability to be moved, and there is a seam directly through it where it can be separated in half, yet the work was so skillfully done that no one can detect it without the builder pointing it out. But contrary to one rumor, all unit houses will not be built on the spot and moved to their destinations. Rather they will be built in the usual manner on their permanent sites.

NEW CHEVROLET GIVES A GLIDE, NOT A RIDE

Proclaimed by its creators as "America's Thrill Car for 1934" the new Chevrolet, with magical "Knee Action" wheels, a Blue Streak engine of 80 horsepower providing a "glide instead of a ride" at 80 miles an hour, is now on display.

Sleek, superbly-styled, with a 112 inch wheelbase and "the ultimate in size for a low-priced, economical car," the new Chevrolet—its sponsors declare—will once again lead the entire field in sales as it has done for the last three years.

Of the car and its features, W. M. Packer, Western sales chief for Chevrolet, says, "The new Chevrolet provides a glide instead of a ride because the sensations of sound and feeling, that annoy the motorist, have been eliminated. The new Chevrolet is lower, longer, more streamlined. The engine has been moved forward on the chassis. The seating has been radically changed. Because of Knee Action wheels and miraculous distribution of weight this new Chevrolet provides a perfect Back-Seat ride. Even though the whispering Blue Streak engine whisks you out of traffic with the ease of a magic carpet and speeds you over all types of roads, you are always aware of the fact that you are gliding, not riding, in this new car."

MRS. KARL RENDTORFF TO SPEAK AT CLUB MEET

At the next meeting of the Current Events Section of the Woman's Club, Wednesday morning, February 14, at ten o'clock in the Girl Scout House, Mrs. Karl Rendtorff will speak on the Church, the University and Women in Germany.

JACK MILLER DIES FROM HEART ATTACK

Death through heart attack came to Jack Miller, a candy maker at the Romy Lane shop, on Friday night as he sought aid during a sudden seizure. Living above the Slevin store on Ocean Avenue, he had shortly before been at a motion picture, and apparently had felt the trouble coming on and had staggered down the stairs seeking help. Night patrolman Dave Nixon heard him cry out and by the time he reached Miller, chief of police Gus Englund had also put in appearance and had caught the unfortunate man as he collapsed.

Miller was about sixty years old and has been in Carmel six years, and is thought to have been a native of San Francisco where his son is now living. He has been under treatment for some time for the trouble, but until recently had not been seriously affected by it.

TESTED LIGHT for BETTER SIGHT

EVERY SECOND after the lights are turned on in your house your eyes are busy. Each pair of eyes in your household is likewise busy. How hard these eyes have to work because of poor light, or how soon eye strain will mean the first or another pair of glasses for some member of your family, you have no means of knowing. How much harm is being done by the wrong kind of light, bare light that causes glare, you may only feel because eyes begin to hurt or headaches start.

Now, the lighting in your home can be tested scientifically by the Sight Meter. By means of this delicate instrument the proper light can be prescribed for your eyes and the work they have to do in your home.

Ask to have a representative of this company call. He will bring with him the scientific new Sight Meter. To give your home Tested Light for Better Sight, he will do this:

He will place the Sight Meter on the newspaper or magazine page you are reading. Then he may say this: "You have too much direct light on the white paper. It produces glare. The light is too bright." Again he may test the light by a desk where children study. Here is shadow. Here is not enough light. Eye strain is being caused here.

Every place in every room where Tested Light can bring Better Sight will be tested in the same careful manner. To have scientifically better lighting in your home, fill out the coupon below and mail it today.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Murray, of Honolulu and Carmel, have returned from the Islands for the Spring and summer following a five months' trip. They were in Carmel much of last year, and during the recent insular trip, the sendoff of which was an event of the San Francisco social season, Mr. Murray made a study of the quarantine regulations with a view of writing an article on the subject.

Francis Brown, the noted golfer who once held the California State Championship, is a close friend of his, and Murray reports that Brown has entirely recovered from the motor accident which at one time threatened to leave him an invalid for life. Not only is Brown active athletically, but he is at present vice-president of the Island Senate.

Mrs. John R. Starkey and family of Piedmont occupied a cottage in Carmel over the week-end.

Visiting in the South for a few days is Mrs. Daisy Bostick of Carmel who left yesterday to stay with her friend Mrs. George Knight. Mrs. Knight will be remembered in Carmel under the name of Grace Newhall, having spent much of her time here before her marriage.

To spend the spring months in Carmel, are Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Crawford of Nelson, British Columbia, who have taken the charming Jadovskoy home on north Carmelo Street.

BUSINESS LICENSE ROW IS QUIETING RAPIDLY

The business license arrests during the past few weeks when leading citizens were served with warrants by License Collector Gus Englund for alleged failure to pay the required fees, bid fair to move quietly into history without the excitement of jury trials at one time threatened.

Edward Kuster, who was arrested for non-payment of business license on his Community Playhouse for the specific date of November 11, 1933 when he rented his theatre to Michio Ito, the noted Japanese dancer, changed his plea this week from not guilty to guilty and will pay his fees. The Misses Denny and Watrous, conducting the concert and art exhibit gallery opposite the postoffice, have paid their delinquent licenses and the complaint was withdrawn by city Judge George Wood.

Bernice Fraser, of Fraser Hand Looms, and Lotta Shipley, of the Moorish Rug Shop, have been granted continuance of their cases until Feb. 8th.

In the meanwhile, a new licensing ordinance is being evolved by the city Council.

years in such forms as the Fourth Avenue storm drain, the corners of Ocean Avenue, the sidewalk on Monte Verde Street, for which property owners furnished the material, the Seventh Street grading, the steps to the beach and numerous other valuable public improvements.

As Rowntree says in his letter to subscribers, "This is the last roundup," and already generous response has been had. Once more Carmel does its part, and under able leadership will continue to do so.

VISITOR FINED FOR RECKLESS DRIVING

Pleading guilty to a charge of reckless driving, Mort Beckwith, 35, a Monterey cannery employee, was sentenced by Judge George Wood to pay a fine of $200, when he will be allowed to settle in installments of $14 a month.

Not only was he alleged to have been driving irregularly, and to have been drinking, but his car was found to have practically no place at Del Monte Chapel and was brakes. Caught by traffic officer performed by the Rev. Harold Charles Guth when he passed a Grimshaw, with a few relatives stop sign at thirty miles an hour and intimate friends in attendance. Leaving for their home in Long Beach are Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel wedding last week of Miss Ida Ifana, who have been conducting Burge of Carmel, and Mr. Elford a business here for the past six G. MacDonald of Monterey. It took months.

More action toward redeeming and retiring the Carmel Dollars is under way following the work of Bernard Rowntree, long active in this productive form of public welfare. His plan is to raise in cash $150.00, half from the merchants and half from the public, and remove from circulation the remaining dollars that stood Carmel in such good stead in the past year.

Supplement

FEBRUARY, 1934

No. 4

HAD YOU LIVED several thousands of years ago you would have seen real "thunder lizards" like this model which is being made by Fred W. Temple of Los Angeles, Calif. In real life these lizards were about 40 feet high and 100 feet long.

THE NATIONAL CAPITOL and vicinity at Washington, D. C., as seen from the air. The quietness of this view is soon forgotten when you step inside the capitol — for then you come face to face with the great activity which is going on there today.

(Right) "A PENNY for your thoughts, Constance!"—and who wouldn't gladly give a penny to know what's going on in the mind of this one of the famous Bennett sisters?

A "ONE-ARMED PAPER HANGER" might be busy, but you can get that Chet Mallory, the one-armed carpenter of Dell Rapids, S. Dak., was even busier when he built this attractive six-room bungalow all by himself. It took him two years to complete the job.

(Right) THREE LONE SKI-ERS at Zermott, Switzerland, stretching a fan-like trail over the white blanket of snow while the famous Matterhorn stands in solid magnificence in the background.

A VIEW of the surface plant of one of the silver mines at Butte, Montana, where there is much activity following President Roosevelt's order that silver produced domestically will be purchased by the government for 64¢ cents per ounce, which is almost 20 cents more than the metal's former price.

(Right) THE SULTAN of Swat—Babe Ruth—as you see him under wraps after a spirited bit of wrestling with a group of boys.

THIS OLD LOG CABIN, though small and crudely built, is significant in American history, for it is the cabin in which Abraham Lincoln was born near Hodgenville, Kentucky.

THE BUILDING of a snow fort is a pretty serious job, as these youngsters will tell you, because you've got to work fast while the snow lasts.

(Right) JOE E. BROWN, the movie favorite who's all fun and a smile wide. And when he laughs, don't try to keep a straight face—because it simply can't be done!

THIS PICTURESQUE SCENE shows moss-covered cypress trees as they grow in a North Carolina swamp.

(Right) HELEN WILL'S MOODY who is sallying forth in 1934 in a campaign to retrieve her lost world tennis crown.
